SENT BY MAIL Postmaster Caruthers Offers Suggestions to the Public Relative to the

For Christmas packages going through the mail Postmaster Caruth-ers gives some valuable suggestions as All mail matter should be so wrapped as to safely bear transmission without breaking, Second, third and fourth class matter must be so wrap-ped that the contents may be exam-ined easily by postal officials.

Address. Mail matter must be addressed legibly and completely. The name of the addressee, the postoffice and the state or territory must be given. If the addressee resides in a city having free delivery, the house-number and street, if known, should be given. To insure return in case of non-delivery because of misdirection, insufficient payment of postage and other causes, the sender's name and address should be written or printed in the upper lefthand corner of the envelope or wran per, preceded by the word "From." Postage stamps should be placed on the upper right hand corner of the address side of all mail matter, care being taken that they are securely af-

Inclosures. With a package of merchandise of fourth class matter, prepaid at the rate for that class, the sender may enclose any matter of the third class (printed matter, etc.). A single card Christmas," "Happy New Year,"
"With Best Wishes," etc., may be enclosed without affecting its classification.

Registration of Packages. Be sure that all valuable letters and packages are registered, as the regis-try fee for each separate letter or package is only ten cents in addition to the postage. Any piece of mallable matter may be registered at any postoffice or station thereof, and by any rural letter carrier.

Post Cards. Cards bearing particles of glass, metal, mica, tinsel, or other similar substances are unmailable, except Lillibridge and Miss Mary Pollard, when enclosed in envelopes tightly sealed to prevent the escape of such Death of William A. Kay. particles, or when treated in such particles, or when treated in such manner as will prevent the objection-able substances from being rubbed off or injuring persons handling the mails. The postmaster would recom-mend that these cards be sent at let-ter rate in scaled envelopes.

Concealed Matter. Senders of packages at the third of ourth class rate (printed matter and merchandise) are warned against enclosing letters therein as the offendthan one hundred dollars.

Rates of Domestic Postage. Letters, two cents for eac hounce r fraction thereof. Newspapers, one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof. Books, printed matter, Christmas cards, one cent for each two ounces, or fraction thereof, limit of weight ur pounds, except that it be a single

SENATOR BRANDEGEE SPEAKS FOR NAVY YARD. Expected There Will Be a Determined

Fight to Retain Some of the Yards.

The recommendations of Secretary Meyer to abolish eight navy yards and naval stations throughout the country has caused considerable surprise in Washington, and a great deal of opposition to the plan will develop as soon as senators and representatives appreciate the full extent of the recommendations. The New Londonn naval station is included in the list. The abolishing of the coaling station at this point would not mean very much, as there is but little business connected with this, but the doing away with the marine barracks would mean with the marine barracks would mean

RESOLUTIONS.

At a special meeting of St. Mary's Total Abstinence and Benevolent So-ciety, held Monday evening. Dec. 5th, the following resolutions were adoptthe following resolutions were adopted:

We, the members of St, Mary's Total Abstinence and Benevolent Society, have learned with deepest feeling of regret of the death of our esteemed and loyal brother member, Jeremiah Riordan, During his long term of membership in the society we learned to know him well and to appreciate his true worth as a man and as a fellow member. Believing, as he did, that the principles upon which the society is founded stand for the betterment of mankind, both morally and physically he was at all times unswerving in his loyalty to those principles, and some of the best years of his life were devoted to furthering the interests of this society. Amongst those with whom he was associated in his daily work, he was highly respected for his integrity and the sturdy honesty of his character and his faithfulness to duty earned for him the fullest measure of confidence of his employers. But it was in his home life that he displayed most fully the many admirable qualities that he possessed and it is in the home that his loss will be most deeply felt. Therefore, be it
